

UN ADOPT PLAN TO TABLE IRAN DISPUTE

OPA'S POWERS ARE REDUCED BY SENATORS

Clothing Rule Changed: Controls To Be Lifted Gradually

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 4.—Congressional battles for keeping price controls alive shed some of their gloom today as OPA came through the first house banking committee voting with fewer wounds than some had expected.

Rep. Monroney (D., Okla.), who said earlier "it looks like OPA will be amended to death," told newsmen, "I believe now OPA will be continued in a shape that will work."

The administration has yet to weather a battle royal on the house floor, where opposition may be stronger than in the committee.

Gradual Recision
That group voted yesterday to repeal OPA's program requiring manufacturers to make low cost clothing.

It also approved a plan for the gradual lifting of price controls as supplies of scarce items come into balance with demand.

Today the committee, meeting behind closed doors, turned to amendments proposing to set up a formula for closing out subsidy programs.

The administration currently is asking congress for $2,051,000,000 to continue these premium payments, particularly on food. Their design is to keep retail prices down even as production costs rise.

Another decision the committee still must make is whether to recommend the full year extension of OPA asked by the administration or a nine-month lease on life as proposed by Rep. Wolcott (Mich.), senior Republican member.

Rep. Brown (D., Ga.) solved the biggest problem before the committee when he came forward with his "decontrol" amendment. It takes away from OPA major authority to decide when to take price ceilings off individual items and puts this responsibility squarely in the lap of President Truman.

The committee rejected, 15 to 9, a proposal by Wolcott to give industry advisory groups rather than government officials a larger voice in determining when various ceilings should be lifted.

The committee adopted a second amendment by Rep. Brown which requires OPA, in determining ceiling price on cotton and wool cloth, to take into account the actual price of the raw cotton or wool or the parity price, whichever is the highest.

Brown told newsmen his amendment would result in no appreciable increase in cloth prices and would bring out larger production.

Tiny Cottages, Luxury Homes In Hawaii Hit; Fear 169 Dead

(By Associated Press)
HONOLULU, April 4.—Property damage wrought by the Pacific's tidal waves was estimated at $10,000,000 in the Hawaiian islands today as businessmen and owners of cottages and $60,000 luxury homes counted their losses.

The death toll in the islands rose to 88 with the finding of five more bodies at Hilo, bringing that city's total to 58.

Sixty-nine were missing; 59 of them from the island of Hawaii.

In other areas of the eastern Pacific, 12 persons drowned. Thus, 169 persons in all may have lost their lives.

Monday's immense waves also hit Tahiti, the Aleutians, California and South America but the greatest loss of life and property occurred in the Hawaiian Islands.

The search for the missing—including 25 school children—continued by sea and air.

Supplies of food and clothing poured into the stricken seaport city of Hilo, partially wrecked as the full force of the tidal waves crashed through its funnel-like harbor.

Throughout the islands, property owners and city, county and territorial officials made sketchy estimates of damage to inundated hotels and yacht clubs, stores and warehouses, sugar plantations, shipping, army and navy installations, utilities, communications and railways.

Holdup Trio Among 7 Named In Grand Jury Indictments

LISBON, April 4.—Indictments charging armed robbery and assault with intent to rob were returned against a Youngstown trio, Joseph Bova, Joseph Cerina and Joseph Powers, also known as Joseph Pawchlo, by the grand jury in its report to Judge Joel H. Sharp late Wednesday afternoon.

Four other indictments returned by the jury in its three-day session, during which 38 witnesses were examined in 14 cases, are:

Donald B. Justison of East Palestine, burglary of the Helman tailor shop in that city; Harry Mitchell of Detroit, burglary of the A. R. Silver home in Salem; Raymond Everline of Salem, petty larceny in connection with the theft of a tire and tools from a Salem garage, and Donald Jewell of East Liverpool, automobile theft.

The Youngstown men, two of whom are already serving sentences following similar indictments to Mahoning county, were charged with the armed robbery of the A. & P. store in Leetonia in which approximately $400 was obtained, and the charge of assault with intent to rob committed at the A. & P. store in East Liverpool, in which they were apprehended in the act.

MURDERER ELUDES FBI AFTER FLIGHT FROM DEATH CELL
McFarland, 24-year-old ex-Marine, pitted the cunning he learned on Guadalcanal against both police and FBI manhunters as the district committee of the house of representatives launched an inquiry into the jailbreak.

The circumstances of the daring break set two investigations in motion, one by the Justice department and another by a special congressional committee. Rep. Herbert (D-La.) of this group assailed "conditions in a jail where murderers can walk in and out with apparent abandon."

A revised story of the escape came out when jail officials disclosed the two death row guards had released McFarland and Medley from their cells for a game of cards before the court.

The appointments are in compliance with a new section of the General Code, but as Columbiana county is financially unable to set up an independent probation department for the work, Judge Sharp appointed the officers from the juvenile court, making a minimum fee allowance of $10 for each investigation and report.

This will be taxed and collected as costs against the defendant.

Named To Conduct Probation Queries
LISBON, April 4.—Judge Joel H. Sharp has appointed Probation Officers Chris Pusey and Matthew Curry to conduct investigations, heretofore referred to the State Welfare department, Division of Correction, of prisoners appearing before the court to determine eligibility for probation.

The investigations will require written reports covering the circumstances in the offense involved, any criminal record, character and past reputation of the prisoner seeking probation, which would be presented for consideration of the court.

The appointments are in compliance with a new section of the General Code, but as Columbiana county is financially unable to set up an independent probation department for the work, Judge Sharp appointed the officers from the juvenile court, making a minimum fee allowance of $10 for each investigation and report.

This will be taxed and collected as costs against the defendant.

Easter Seals Provide Aid For Crippled
The annual Easter Seal sale is being conducted by the Rotary club in cooperation with the Ohio Society for Crippled Children.

Funds from the seal sale form the main source of support to services for the crippled in Salem and vicinity. This work is not duplicated by any other agency, David Bevan, chairman, emphasized today.

There are 373,177 crippled children registered in the United States and it is known that all crippled children are not registered.

The Rotary club has been interested in and worked for every type of crippled child, regardless of race, color or creed, for nearly 25 years.

The sale here is a part of the state-wide sale being conducted by the Ohio Society for Crippled Children.

TAX RECEIPTS MAY CUT U. S. 1946 DEFICIT

Balanced Budget Starting July 1 Forecast Officially

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 4.—The federal deficit may be cut to around $22,000,000,000 for this fiscal year and wiped out in 1946-47, government economists estimated today.

Treasury technicians now believe tax receipts for the year ending June 30 will run 2 to 3 billion dollars higher than was foreseen in January, when President Truman's budget message went to congress.

Cuts in federal spending, made more rapidly than anticipated because of speedier demobilization and reduction in military expenditures, will save the government a sum about as large, reported these officials who may not be quoted by name.

Conservative Estimate
"This is a conservative estimate, but it appears that the total deficit will be at least 5 or 6 billion dollars less than the $28,000,000,000 deficit originally estimated," said one White House adviser.

"If business activity holds up and if congress does not dip too deeply into the treasury on new appropriation bills, the present tax rates should easily balance the budget in the fiscal year starting July 1."

The President's budget message of Jan. 21 estimated a deficit of $4,300,000,000 for the coming fiscal year, but Mr. Truman said this would be met by tapping "the very substantial balance" that would exist in the treasury.

The quarterly report of Reconstruction Director John W. Snyder, issued yesterday at the White House, stated that this year's federal deficit would be "several billion dollars less than was anticipated," because the high level of national income and production was maintaining federal tax collections at a good rate while war outlays were being reduced rapidly.

Eighteen Depart For Armed Forces
Eighteen youths, most of whom recently passed their 18th birthday, left by train for Cleveland this morning where they will be given initial military assignments.

Members of the group, Salem's draft quota for this month, were accepted for service with the armed forces after passing physical examinations at Cleveland in mid-March.

One other man, Frederick Earl Sommers, R. D. 3, Salem, who was to have reported with today's group, was assigned after his enlistment March 6.

Felix Robert Dubiel of Leetonia was named leader of the group.

Included in the group which departed this morning are:

Theodore Eugene Bell, R. D. 3, Salem; Harold James Burkhardt, R. D. 3, Alliance; John Albert Donley, R. D. 3, Salem; David Allen Driscoll, R. D. 1, Leetonia; George Eugene Enders, R. D. 2, Salem.

Atom Bomb Blast Under Ocean May Cause Tidal Wave

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
DAYTON, April 4.—Exploding an atomic bomb under water is expected by scientists to cause a tidal wave. But this wave is not necessarily big enough to equal the tidal wave caused by the underwater quake off Alaska.

An earthquake is usually a far greater disturbance than the explosion of an atomic bomb. The quake is not as violent over a short distance but is likely to spread over a much larger area.

One of the first atomic predictions in 1939 was its use to cause tidal waves that might seriously damage nearby coastal cities. This prediction was made to President Roosevelt in a letter written by Dr. Leo Szilard, University of Chicago, and presented to the President by Alexander Sachs of New York.

This letter was one of the reasons that led Roosevelt to initiate the atomic bomb research with government support in 1939.

Calculations Not Complete
Szilard's prediction was for waves that would affect coasts close to the place where the atomic bomb was exploded.

Physicists have not, so far as reported, completed their calculations as to what sort of tidal wave may be caused by the underwater bomb proposed to be exploded a half mile under water in 1947.

None have indicated a belief that the tidal waves would be big enough to affect seriously distant shores, like that of the American west coast, if the bomb is exploded in the Central Pacific.

The first explosion at Bikini atoll about July 1 this year is not expected.

BOY INJURED AS CAR, TRUCK CRASH

Glen E. Ritchie of Salem suffered a head laceration at 10:15 a. m. today when a car, in which he was a passenger, driven by his uncle, Gale E. Duffy, of 421 W. State st., and a truck, driven by Byron S. Sanor, R. D. 1, Salem, collided at the intersection of Second st. and N. Ellsworth ave.

Duffy told police he was driving north on Ellsworth ave. when the steering gear of his auto locked and sent his car into the path of the southbound truck.

Sanor was unable to avoid the collision and the youth was injured when he was thrown against the dashboard by the impact. The front end of both vehicles were damaged.

The boy was treated at the Central Clinic.

Four other indictments returned by the jury in its three-day session, during which 38 witnesses were examined in 14 cases, are:

Donald B. Justison of East Palestine, burglary of the Helman tailor shop in that city; Harry Mitchell of Detroit, burglary of the A. R. Silver home in Salem; Raymond Everstine of Salem, petty larceny in connection with the theft of a tire and tools from a Salem garage, and Donald Jewell of East Liverpool, automobile theft.

The Youngstown men, two of whom are already serving sentences following similar indictments in Mahoning county, were charged with the armed robbery of the A. & P. store in Leetonia in which approximately $400 was obtained, and the charge of assault with intent to rob committed at the A. & P. store in East Liverpool, in which they were apprehended in the act.

New Jail Urged
The grand jury, which also visited the Mahoning county jail where Columbian county prisoners are boarded, declared "we feel that Columbian county should have a new jail which should be constructed as economically as possible."

We recommend the correction of unsatisfactory sanitary conditions," with regard to mattresses, ventilation and lighting; otherwise "we find the jail to be satisfactory."

Five cases were ignored by the jurors, one was referred to probate court, and two other cases were combined in one indictment.

The circumstances of the daring break set two investigations in motion, one by the Justice department and another by a special congressional committee, Rep. Herbert (D-La.) of this group assailed "conditions in a jail where murderers can walk in and out with apparent abandon."

A revised story of the escape came out when jail officials disclosed the two death row guards had released McFarland and Medley from their cells for a game of cards before the break.

TAX RECEIPTS MAY CUT U. S. 1946 DEFICIT

Balanced Budget Starting July 1 Forecast Officially

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 4.—The federal deficit may be cut to around $22,000,000,000 for this fiscal year and wiped out in 1946-47, government economists estimated today.

Treasury technicians now believe tax receipts for the year ending June 30 will run 2 to 3 billion dollars higher than was foreseen in January, when President Truman's budget message went to congress.

Cuts in federal spending, made more rapidly than anticipated because of speedier demobilization and reduction in military expenditures, will save the government a sum about as large, reported these officials who may not be quoted by name.

Conservative Estimate
"This is a conservative estimate, but it appears that the total deficit will be at least 5 or 6 billion dollars less than the $28,000,000,000 deficit originally estimated," said one White House adviser.

"If business activity holds up and if congress does not dip too deeply into the treasury on new appropriation bills, the present tax rates should easily balance the budget in the fiscal year starting July 1."

The President's budget message of Jan. 21 estimated a deficit of $4,300,000,000 for the coming fiscal year, but Mr. Truman said this would be met by tapping "the very substantial balance" that would exist in the treasury.

The quarterly report of Reconstruction Director John W. Snyder, issued yesterday at the White House, stated that this year's federal deficit would be "several billion dollars less than was anticipated," because the high level of national income and production were maintaining federal tax collections at a good rate while war outlays were being reduced rapidly.

Eighteen Depart For Armed Forces
Eighteen youths, most of whom recently passed their 18th birthday, left by train for Cleveland this morning where they will be given initial military assignments.

Members of the group, Salem's draft quota for this month, were accepted for service with the armed forces after passing physical examinations at Cleveland in mid-March.

One other man, Frederick Earl Sommers, R. D. 3, Salem, who was to have reported with today's group, was assigned after his enlistment March 6.

Felix Robert Dubiel of Leetonia was named leader of the group.

Included in the group which departed this morning are:

Theodore Eugene Bell, R. D. 3, Salem; Alliance, John Albert Donkey, R. D. 3, Salem; David Allen Driscoll, R. D. 1, Leetonia; George Eugene Enders, R. D. 2, Salem.

David Hastings Frantz, Washington; William Edward Kalfbell, 469 E. Second st.; Myrtle Edwin Kilbreath, R. D. 4, Lisbon; Chester James Lucas, 642 Franklin st.

Vernon Harry Palmer, Bayard; Anthony John Pandin, R. D. 1, Homeworth; Charles Donald Schaefer, 739 E. Fourth st.; Paul Z. Shinker, R. D. 3, Salem.

Jacques Arnold Taylor, Leetonia; Howard Harry Temple, Hanoverton; Wilbur Edward Young, R. D. 1, New Waterford; Richard Harvey Widmyer, Columbus; and Dubiel.

The appointments are in compliance with a new section of the General Code, but as Columbian county is financially unable to set up an independent probation department for the work, Judge Sharp appointed the officers from the juvenile court, making a minimum fee allowance of $10 for each investigation and report.

This will be taxed and collected as costs against the defendant.

Firm Incorporated
Incorporation papers granted at Columbus yesterday include:

The Garrod Manufacturing Corp., New Waterford, 2,000 shares no par stock. Incorporators are W. C. Fisher, H. H. Garrod and Mary L. Garrod.

Glen E. Ritchie of Salem suffered a head laceration at 10:15 a. m. today when a car, in which he was a passenger, driven by his uncle, Gale E. Duffy of 421 W. State st., and a truck, driven by Byron S. Sanor, R. D. 1, Salem, collided at the intersection of Second st. and N. Ellsworth ave.

Duffy told police he was driving north on Ellsworth ave. when the steering gear of his auto locked and sent his car into the path of the southbound truck.

Sanor was unable to avoid the collision and the youth was injured when he was thrown against the dashboard by the impact. The front ends of both vehicles were damaged.

The boy was treated at the Central Clinic.

Valuable Tools Stolen From Columbian Garage
Deputies from Sheriff George Hayes' office today were investigating the breaking and entering of the Chestwood brothers garage, located on Route 14 a mile east of Columbus.

It was reported that burglars stole $600 worth of tools and merchandise from the garage some time during the night.

Atom Bomb Blast Under Ocean May Cause Tidal Wave

(By Associated Press)
DAYTON, April 4.—Exploding an atomic bomb under water is expected by scientists to cause a tidal wave. But this wave is not necessarily big enough to equal the tidal wave caused by the underwater quake off Alaska.

An earthquake is usually a far greater disturbance than the explosion of an atomic bomb. The quake is not as violent over a short distance but is likely to spread over a much larger area.

One of the first atomic predictions in 1939 was its use to cause tidal waves that might seriously damage nearby coastal cities. This prediction was made to President Roosevelt in a letter written by Dr. Leo Szilard, University of Chicago, and presented to the President by Alexander Sachs of New York.

This letter was one of the reasons that led Roosevelt to initiate the atomic bomb research with government support in 1939.

Calculations Not Complete
Szilard's prediction was for waves that would affect coasts close to the place where the atomic bomb was exploded.

Physicists have not, so far as reported, completed their calculations as to what sort of tidal wave may be caused by the underwater bomb proposed to be exploded a half mile under water in 1947.

None have indicated a belief that the tidal waves would be big enough to affect seriously distant shores, like that of the American west coast, if the bomb is exploded in the Central Pacific.

The first explosion at Bikini atoll about July 1 this year is not expected to cause such a wave.

VOTE IS 9-2 ON PROPOSAL OF SEC. BYRNES

Russia Given Until May 6 To Pull Troops Out Of Iran

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
NEW YORK, April 4.—On a motion by U. S. Secretary Byrnes, the Security council today shelved the Iranian case until May 6—but the decision came only after Australia's representative had blasted Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko's walkout and accused the council of failing to do its duty.

Nine of the council's 11 members voted for the Byrnes resolution, which is based on Russia's flat promise to the council yesterday that her troops will all be withdrawn from Iran by early May.

Gromyko's continued absence counted for one vote and the abstention of Australia's W. R. Hodgson from casting his ballot for the other.

Held Satisfactory
Byrnes declared Russia's assurances should be accepted as satisfactory and that by deferring the case now the council could ask reports on it May 6—by which time the Russians should be out of Iran.

Council President Quo Tai-Chi of China said he hoped Iran and Russia would settle all their troubles and make further discussion unnecessary.

But it was Hodgson, fiery, gray diplomat in the best Australian tradition, a minority protester, who added the final fireworks to the crisis-laden case.

He said Gromyko's walkout a week ago had "prejudiced the work, efficiency and authority of the council," that the decision to defer the case should not have been made until after full investigation, that Iran's complaints were being handled as a political incident rather than a whole vital situation.

Throughout the proceedings Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala was at the council table and he expressed Iran's acceptance of the Byrnes-sponsored resolution.

Promises Unconditional
In short order Egypt, Brazil, Britain, Poland and Mexico lined up behind the Byrnes resolution.

French Ambassador Henri Bonnet stated France's agreement, making a council majority.

The Byrnes resolution took note of the Russian assurances that troops would be evacuated from Iran within five-six weeks of the start of their removal on March 24.

It accepted the Russian promises as unconditional.

Since withdrawal could not be completed any earlier than the specified time, Byrnes said, the council should accept the Russian statement and, in effect, shelve the case.

Nothing Too Good For Veterans

A little story from Bellingham, Wash., about a World War I veteran who would like to trade in the Distinguished Service Cross he won for a chance to buy a farm tractor helps to spotlight a danger in exclusive rights to veterans of World War II.

There are many similar examples growing out of the priority practice of giving preference to the veterans of World War II in the purchase of scarce goods. These will be multiplied by the government policy on building restrictions, for the presumed benefit of World War II veterans. For example, some of the veterans themselves will be handicapped in their efforts to get started in the building business.

The moral is obvious: that anything done by government for the exclusive benefit of a special group of citizens may do them injury instead by penalizing other groups on which they depend for a livelihood.

Nothing is too good for war veterans—all of them. But all political gestures of sympathy need to be examined carefully to make certain that there is no concealed boomerang present. The way to help veterans of World War II is not to give them priority on things that are scarce but to give them and the whole country a chance to reinstate abundance as the secret of America's high standard of living.

Rough Idea

Among the wreckage in the wake of the Pacific tidal wave may be the plan of the United States armed services to experiment with underwater explosions of the atomic bomb. The possibility of danger is not so much in the bomb itself as in the repercussions.

There are many unsettled areas in the Pacific, subject to violent shiftings and settlements. The earthquakes that result have rarely started water motion of such magnitude as that of the giant swells which destroyed life and property this week, but each one is a potential disaster.

As the damage caused by the latest disturbance is comprehended, the men bearing responsibility for experiments with atomic explosions will be more sobered than ever by the implications of the power in their hands. They hold the means of rocking the universe.

The atomic bombs now in existence are only a foretaste of the destructive force within the reach of mankind. It is imaginable, for example, that the very islands of Japan might be dislodged by the explosive force inherent in the sudden release of atomic energy. In league with natural forces waiting to be released—the gravity of unbalanced land masses and slumbering volcanoes—an atomic bomb conceivably could alter the earth itself.

Language and Meaning

One of the fundamental difficulties in the troubled sphere of international relations is, of course, the lack of a common interpretation of the same words by different nations and governments. It is, perhaps, even more troublesome than is the lack of a common language.

The example of this difficulty that comes most readily to mind is the varying conceptions of the word "democracy." The American and British definition is best and most famously expressed in the last sentence of Lincoln's Gettysburg address. To the Russians, however, "democracy" is government of, by and for the party—with secret police, controlled press, one-party elections, and so on.

But there are other differences. Take, for example, the matter of "equality among nations." From the evidence at hand, it would seem that among the great powers America and Britain, in particular, construe the phrase to mean that small nations have a right to be heard, to resent being pushed around, to choose their own form of government in free elections, and, having chosen that form of government, to be granted equality of sovereign standing among the United Nations.

It would also seem from recent evidence that Russia considers "equality among nations" to mean an equally free hand among the powerful nations to do about as they please.

At least, "equality among nations" has been invoked in unofficial complaints from Moscow in protest against the fact that, in effect, Britain maintains armed forces in the Near, Middle, and Far East, and the United States keeps troops in China, Iceland, and elsewhere, yet Russia is not considered justified in doing the same thing in Iran.

Perhaps the western democracies have not lived up to the letter or spirit of their ideal of equality among nations. Surely, the world will be a happier and more peaceful place when all foreign troops are withdrawn from every country.

Meanwhile, it can be pointed out that, in some instances, American and British forces are present on foreign soil at the request of that foreign nation's duly constituted and recognized government. In no case are they present in violation of a treaty agreement, to withdraw, and despite a recognized government's protest of their presence to the United Nations.

But protests and excuses can lead to no solution in an international organization without real legal power, and, thanks to weakening compromises, without any real strength to act against the Big Five.

Lacking legal teeth, the United Nations can depend only on good will for its good work. And good will seems to be an unhappily scarce commodity in the international market these days.

Call To Honorable Arms

April 6 is Army Day, when the United States pays its annual tribute to the great military organization to which it owes, in such large part, the freedom it enjoys today. There will be parades and speeches and enthusiastic hurrahs for GI Joe.

We like a parade, a rally, or an oration as much, we think, as does any other American. But we can't help feeling that this year the celebration should be marked by serious and responsible thought as well as by effervescent emotion. For 1946 is a year of crisis—a year which may well shape the destinies of us all for generations to come.

After four seemingly endless years of war, we enjoy peace. But we face perhaps a harder battle to maintain that peace than we were compelled to undergo to win it. And we face it, moreover, with not the faintest resemblance of the unity and clarity which characterized our war effort. As a result, we have not at present an army sufficiently strong and sufficiently aggressive to win for us the current struggle for survival.

The national commitments, occupational and otherwise, in the prosecution of which the American Army is now so intensively engaged are irrevocable and all-important; our success with them may well determine whether the cream of our youth will ever again be required to extinguish with its blood the blaze of a foreign conqueror. So, too, may our wisdom in refusing now to relinquish the position of world leadership which we acquired only by the force of our arms, and which we can retain largely by retaining our martial power.

Congress has permitted the Army to dwindle from overwhelming authority to frightening weakness by rapid and seemingly uncontrolled demobilization. And it has not provided essential replacements, either by the enactment of universal military training or by an appreciable extension of the draft, now scheduled to expire May 15.

The issue is, therefore, squarely up to American youth. They can yet mold the national destiny and spare the world the limitless devastation of still another armed conflict. By enlisting now in sufficient numbers, they can earn the undying gratitude of generations yet unborn.

Army life has never been well fitted to the individualistic American character. Today, no less than ever before, it offers a challenge. But successive generations of our men have met that challenge; and because they have, we walk as free citizens of a free country.

Our Army offers the highest pay, the finest food and quarters, the best medical treatment, the most appealing jobs ever provided by a military organization. It offers, too, the pride of membership in a team which has never been beaten, the self-respect which comes from participation in a vital task, the opportunity to receive the thanks of a grateful nation and of a war-weary world.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Curative Value of Good Exercise

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

EXERCISE is medicine, too.

Since ancient times, exercise has been a basic part of the treatment of many disorders.

After disease and injury, exercise may be used to restore strength and vigor. But since here it plays a curative role, it must, like medicine, be of the right kind and taken in doses that are not too large.

In other words, it must be "just what the doctor orders."

Adjust Exercise

In every instance it is important to adjust the exercise to the patient's physical condition and, particularly, according to Dr. Ansel Keys of the University of Minnesota, to the fitness of the heart and blood vessels.

A number of tests have been devised to determine whether or not the patient's heart and blood vessels react normally to exercise.

In one of these tests, the patient is placed on a table which can be tilted and it is then determined how the heartbeat and pulse rate react to various changes of position. Once these facts have been determined with this and other tests the patient can be instructed precisely in regard to the kind and amount of exercise which he may take.

For example, in such common exercises as walking, the rate and rhythm can be specified in exact detail. Furthermore, the patient can be instructed as to whether he should walk on level ground or on hills.

Good Plans

It is also a good plan to find out the amount of exercise the patient is taking and how much effort he expends in doing so.

As a general rule, exercise which produces fatigue whatever are the results. A brief period of so-called "setting-up" exercises taken each day, according to Dr. Keys, is not of much value except in persons who may be extremely weakened as a result of disease or old age.

He also thinks that exercises should be pleasurable because otherwise the mind becomes fatigued before any effects of the exercise of the body are achieved.

Many times a sick person may just not have the desire to exercise. In such cases so-called passive exercises may be helpful.

Types of Apparatus

For example, there are various types of apparatus which move the arms and legs. While such exercise is not as good as active movements, the effects on the vigor of the muscles, the circulation and breathing are about equal to those obtained from a leisurely stroll.

Persons who exercise vigorously often may be concerned about so-called athletic heart or heart strain.

Like any other muscle, the heart is capable of training, and if vigorous exercise is carried out over a long period of time, the heart becomes larger and more powerful. This is no cause for concern.

Active exercise may often be an important factor in building health. But if indulged in to the point of strain it may do more harm than good. Particularly, if it overtaxes the heart it may result in serious and lasting damage.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

AN EPOCHAL PERIOD

Editor, The News:
The world, needless to say, is passing through a period of pain and turmoil. Whose fault is it? Nobody's. The trouble is that man's economy of gross materialism has reached a climactic with the result that he has become lost. We no longer have a compass for pointing the way, no historical precedent for guiding us.

Civilization as we know it has encircled the world. During the period of that encirclement the carnal principle upon which it had been founded has undergone a change. It has crept up on us so gradually that we of today are living in a new era without realizing it.

The world is much smaller than it used to be. Our neighbors of the antipodes are in closer touch with us today than was Sacramento with New York a half century ago. We have moved in on one another and are distraught at the intrusion. The encroachment is interfering with the affairs of private life. The old homestead is not what it used to be, and we don't seem to know what to do about it.

The reason we don't know is because we refuse to acknowledge that the structure of the world's economy has changed.

The change has been cosmic, requiring for its development a great space of time; and we are now bent upon trying to denature it by way of a compromise between the new and the old.

But such is the sin that man has always been committing, against nature. We accept her laws as very good but when they interfere with human procedure their intervention is opposed and denounced as evil.

Now the world of today is again beset with one of those so-called evils. This time it is a major one unlike any other that the human race has ever experienced before in that it marks the end of rugged individualism.

The era of individualism began in the jungle days of human life. It has been an era during which physical necessity constituted the motivating factor of human conduct. The need for material things such as food, clothing and shelter demand priority over the principles of goodwill and brotherhood, thus inciting an urge for sharp bargaining and for taking unfair advantages of one another.

That form of civilization is now on its way out, and, in the words of the poet, is leaving us "standing with reluctant feet where the brook and river meet."

The change which is taking place implies the end of one dispensation of nature and the beginning of another, and is therefore destined to mark a point from which future time will be reckoned.

Before then, however, we evidently will have given some future historian an occasion for writing in part: "And of them that were still alive there were too few to bury the dead. Those that perished were left to lie whether they had fallen, for the elements to eat away their flesh and to whiten their bones, until finally, after order had again been restored, the remains were gathered from all parts of the earth and taken to one place where there was made of them a great pyramid as a monumental sign and warning of the futility of warring against nature of her god."

Nothing Too Good For Veterans

A little story from Bellingham, Wash., about a World War I veteran who would like to trade in the Distinguished Service Cross he won for a chance to buy a farm tractor helps to spotlight a danger in exclusive rights to veterans of World War II.

There are many similar examples growing out of the priority practice of giving preference to the veterans of World War II in the purchase of scarce goods. These will be multiplied by the government policy on building restrictions, for the presumed benefit of World War II veterans. For example, some of the veterans themselves will be handicapped in their efforts to get started in the building business.

The moral is obvious: that anything done by government for the exclusive benefit of a special group of the citizens may do them injury instead by penalizing other groups on which they depend for a livelihood.

Nothing is too good for war veterans—all of them. But all political gestures of sympathy need to be examined carefully to make certain that there is no concealed boomerang present. The way to help veterans of World War II is not to give them priority on things that are scarce but to give them and the whole country a chance to reinstate abundance as the secret of America's high standard of living.

Rough Idea

Among the wreckage in the wake of the Pacific tidal wave may be the plan of the United States armed services to experiment with underwater explosions of the atomic bomb. The possibility of danger is not so much in the bomb itself as in the repercussions.

There are many unsettled areas in the Pacific, subject to violent shifts and settlements. The earthquakes that result have rarely started water motion of such magnitude as that of the giant swells which destroyed life and property this week, but each one is a potential disaster.

As the damage caused by the latest disturbance is comprehended, the men bearing responsibility for experiments with atomic explosions will be more sobered than ever by the implications of the power in their hands. They hold the means of rocking the universe.

The atomic bombs now in existence are only a forerunner of the destructive force within the reach of mankind. It is imaginable, for example, that the very islands of Japan might be dislodged by the explosive force inherent in the sudden release of atomic energy. In league with natural forces waiting to be released—the gravity of unbalanced land masses and slumbering volcanoes—an atomic bomb conceivably could alter the earth itself.

Language and Meaning

One of the fundamental difficulties in the troubled sphere of international relations is, of course, the lack of a common interpretation of the same words by different nations and governments. It is, perhaps, even more troublesome than is the lack of a common language.

The example of this difficulty that comes most readily to mind is the varying conceptions of the word "democracy." The American and British definition is best and most famously expressed in the last sentence of Lincoln's Gettysburg address. To the Russians, however, "democracy" is government of, by and for the party—with secret police, controlled press, one-party elections, and so on.

But there are other differences. Take, for example, the matter of "equality among nations." From the evidence at hand, it would seem that among the great powers America and Britain, in particular, construe the phrase to mean that small nations have a right to be heard, to resist being pushed around, to choose their own form of government in free elections, and, having chosen that form of government, to be granted equality of sovereign standing among the United Nations.

It would also seem from recent evidence that Russia considers "equality among nations" to mean an equally free hand among the powerful nations to do as they please.

At least, "equality among nations" has been invoked in unofficial complaints from Moscow in protest against the fact that, in effect, Britain maintains armed forces in the Near, Middle, and Far East, and the United States keeps troops in China, Iceland, and elsewhere, yet Russia is not considered justified in doing the same thing in Iran.

Perhaps the western democracies have not lived up to the letter or spirit of their ideal of equality among nations. Surely, the world will be a happier and more peaceful place when all foreign troops are withdrawn from every country.

Meanwhile, it can be pointed out that, in some instances, American and British forces are present on foreign soil at the request of that foreign nation's duly constituted and recognized government. In no case are they present in violation of a treaty agreement to withdraw, and despite a recognized government's protest of their presence to the United Nations.

But protests and excuses can lead to no solution in an international organization without real legal power, and, thanks to weakening compromises, without any real strength to act against the Big Five.

Lacking legal teeth, the United Nations can depend only on good will for its good work. And good will seems to be an unhappily scarce commodity in the international market these days.

Call To Honorable Arms

April 6 is Army Day, when the United States pays its annual tribute to the great military organization to which it owes, in such large part, the freedom it enjoys today. There will be parades and speeches and enthusiastic hurrahs for GI Joe.

We like a parade, a rally, or an oration as much, we think, as does any other American. But we can't help feeling that this year the celebration should be marked by serious and responsible thought as well as by effervescent emotion. For 1946 is a year of crisis—a year which may well shape the destinies of us all for generations to come.

After four seemingly endless years of war, we enjoy peace. But we face perhaps a harder battle to maintain that peace than we were compelled to undergo to win it. And we face it, moreover, with not the faintest resemblance of the unity and clarity which characterized our war effort. As a result, we have not at present an army sufficiently strong and sufficiently aggressive to win for us the current struggle for survival.

The national commitments, occupational and otherwise, in the prosecution of which the American Army is now so intensively engaged are irrevocable and all-important; our success with them may well determine whether the cream of our youth will ever again be required to extinguish with its blood the blaze of a foreign conqueror. So, too, may our wisdom in refusing now to relinquish the position of world leadership which we acquired only by the force of our arms, and which we can retain largely by retaining our martial power.

Congress has permitted the Army to dwindle from overwhelming authority to frightening weakness by rapid and seemingly uncontrolled demobilization. And it has not provided essential replacements, either by the enactment of universal military training or by an appreciable extension of the draft, now scheduled to expire May 15.

The issue is, therefore, squarely up to American youth. They can yet mold the national destiny and spare the world the limitless devastation of still another armed conflict. By enlisting now in sufficient numbers, they can earn the undying gratitude of generations yet unborn.

Army life has never been well fitted to the individualistic American character. Today, no less than ever before, it offers a challenge. But successive generations of our men have met that challenge; and because they have, we walk as free citizens of a free country.

Our Army offers the highest pay, the finest food and quarters, the best medical treatment, the most appealing jobs ever provided by a military organization. It offers, too, the pride of membership in a team which has never been beaten, the self-respect which comes from participation in a vital task, the opportunity to receive the thanks of a grateful nation and of a war-weary world.

A QUICK grasp of advantageous situations, with the prospect of substantial approbation and cooperation of large corporations, diplomatic, political or fraternal organizations, is encouraged by the propitious planetary operations.

New ideas and novel or clever systems or methods may achieve much in this direction. A swift grasp of favoring conditions, together with tact or strategy in approaching these influential persons or institutions, should bring much happiness and prosperity. Change or travel may be involved.

Those whose birthday it is are urged to be ready for a quick grasp of advantageous openings for putting over new ideas, or fresh ways and means of improving lagging situations, this because of the readiness of fraternal, community, political or diplomatic organizations to recognize merit or to promote constructive ideas. The use of tact, finesse and personal charm or appeal should go far in attaining progress, prosperity and unusual gratification.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Curative Value of Good Exercise

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

EXERCISE is medicine, too.

Since ancient times, exercise has been a basic part of the treatment of many disorders.

After disease and injury, exercise may be used to restore strength and vigor. But since here it plays a curative role, it must, like medicine, be of the right kind and taken in doses that are not too large.

In other words, it must be "just what the doctor orders."

Adjust Exercise

In every instance it is important to adjust the exercise to the patient's physical condition and, particularly, according to Dr. Angel Keys of the University of Minnesota, to the fitness of the heart and blood vessels.

A number of tests have been devised to determine whether or not the patient's heart and blood vessels react normally to exercise.

In one of these tests, the patient is placed on a table which can be tilted and it is then determined how the heartbeat and pulse rate react to various changes of positions. Once these facts have been determined, with this and other tests the patient can be instructed precisely in regard to the kind and amount of exercise which he may take.

For example, in such common exercises as walking, the rate and rhythm can be specified in exact detail. Furthermore, the patient can be instructed as to whether he should walk on level ground or on hills.

Good Plans

It is also a good plan to find out the amount of exercise the patient is taking and how much effort he expends in doing so.

As a general rule, exercise which produces no fatigue whatsoever is of little value. A brief period of so-called "setting-up" exercises taken each day, according to Dr. Keys, is not of much value except in persons who may be extremely weakened as a result of disease or old age.

He also thinks that exercises should be pleasurable because otherwise the mind becomes fatigued before any effects of the exercise of the body are achieved.

Many times a sick person may just not have the desire to exercise. In such cases so-called passive exercises may be helpful.

Types of Apparatus

For example, there are various types of apparatus which move the arms and legs. While such exercise is not as good as active movements, the effects on the vigor of the muscles, the circulation and breathing are about equal to those obtained from a leisurely stroll.

Persons who exercise vigorously often may be concerned about so-called athletic heart or heart strain.

Like any other muscle, the heart is capable of training, and if vigorous exercise is carried out over a long period of time, the heart becomes larger and more powerful. This is no cause for concern.

Active exercise may often be an important factor in building health. But if indulged in to the point of strain it may do more harm than good. Particularly, if it overtaxes the heart it may result in serious and lasting damage.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

AN EPOCHAL PERIOD

Editor, The News:

The world, needless to say, is passing through a period of pain and turmoil. Whose fault is it?

Nobody's. The trouble is that man's economy of gross materialism has reached a climactic with the result that he has become lost. We no longer have a compass for pointing the way, no historical precedent for guiding us.

Civilization as we know it has encircled the world. During the period of that encirclement the carnal principle upon which it had been founded has undergone a change. It has crept up on us so gradually that we of today are living in a new era without realizing it.

The world is much smaller than it used to be. Our neighbors of the antipodes are in closer touch with us today than was Sacramento with New York a half century ago. We have moved in on one another and are distraught at the intrusion. The encroachment is interfering with the affairs of private life. The old homestead is not what it used to be, and we don't seem to know what to do about it.

The reason we don't know is because we refuse to acknowledge that the structure of the world's economy has changed.

The change has been cosmic, requiring for its development a great space of time; and we are now bent upon trying to denature it by way of a compromise between the new and the old.

But such is the sin that man has always been committing against nature. We accept her laws as very good but when they interfere with human procedure their intervention is opposed and denounced as evil.

Now the world of today is again beset with one of those so-called evils. This time it is a major one unlike any other that the human race has ever experienced before in that it marks the end of rugged individualism.

The era of individualism began in the jungle days of human life. It has been an era during which physical necessity constituted the motivating factor of human conduct. The need for material things such as food, clothing and shelter demanded priority over the principles of goodwill and brotherhood, thus inciting an urge for sharp bargaining and for taking unfair advantages of one another.

That form of civilization is now on its way out, and, in the words of the poet, is leaving us "standing with reluctant feet where the brook and river meet."

The change which is taking place implies the end of one dispensation of nature and the beginning of another, and is therefore destined to mark a point from which future time will be reckoned.

Before then, however, we evidently will have given some future historian an occasion for writing in part: "And of them that were still alive there were too few to bury the dead. Those that perished were left to lie whether they had fallen, for the elements to eat away their flesh and to whiten their bones, until finally, after order had again been restored, the remains were gathered from all parts of the earth and taken to one place where there was made of them a great pyramid as a monumental sign and warning of the futility of warring against nature of her god."

Wants State School For Those Afflicted With Muscular Ills

COLUMBUS, April 4.—Ohio needs a program for care and treatment of those afflicted with muscular paralysis, said Reams, who is director of the Ohio Hospital Association here yesterday. He said that a state school should be established to care for those afflicted with the disease, and that the state should take responsibility for the care of these patients. Reams also heard that the state correction of physical defects among Ohio's law-abiding citizens.

Recent experiments, said Reams, have shown many cases of social maladjustment among Ohio's 12,000 inmates of penal and correctional institutions were due to some type of physical disturbance or illness.

Other main welfare problems confronting the state are the need for more safety and hygiene standards of homes caring for the Ohio's aged, and establishment of more receiving hospitals for the mentally ill and the segregation of mentally ill tubercular patients, Reams said.

Also the "medieval" system of bringing a person into court to have him convicted of insanity before he can be institutionalized, soon should be replaced with a system under which any physician could enter a patient in a receiving hospital for the mentally ill at any time, Reams concluded.

Keitel Says Hitler Issued All Orders

NUERNBERG, April 4.—Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel frankly testified today that many orders issued under his name "represented deviations from existing international law" and that it was his duty "to take responsibility for what I have done, even if it has been wrong."

The former chief of the German high command, one of 22 leading Germans on trial as war criminals, told the international military tribunal:

"I am grateful to have the opportunity here and before the German people to give an account of those things. For all officers subordinate to me, I assume responsibility insofar as it is based on moral and legal principles."

From the time Col. Werner Von Blomberg resigned as chief of the army in 1938, "there was only one commander in chief—Hitler himself," Keitel testified. Von Blomberg died last month in the Nuernberg prison.

"Hitler issued orders to all three arms of the Wehrmacht directly," the field marshal said. "There was no deputizing of power."

Fined On Rent Overcharge

Edward Wagner, of 136 E. Maryland ave., Sebring, admitted violations of rent ceilings for his housing accommodations at 2732 22nd st. Canton, in a settlement of charges brought against him by the district OPA in U. S. District court in Cleveland.

Wagner consented to an injunction to prevent further violations and payment of $330 in treble damages.

Patterson, Forrestal Urge Draft Extension

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson told senators yesterday the present "world emergency" would last through 1947 and urged a year's extension of selective service beyond May 15.

His appeal was backed up by Secretary of Navy James V. Forrestal who told the senate military committee "We cannot be unmindful of the facts that the world is not at peace."

The committee is hearing final arguments for extension of the draft before voting on the question next Tuesday.

Wants State School For Those Afflicted With Muscular Ills

COLUMBUS, April 4.—Ohio needs a program for care and treatment of those afflicted with muscular paralysis, often as being mentally ill even though possessing normal, healthy minds, says Welfare Director Frazier Reams.

Reams told the 31st annual convention of the Ohio Hospital association here yesterday that a state school should be established to teach those afflicted with the physical injury to the central nervous system how to live normal lives.

The 300 delegates also heard Reams urge state correction of physical defects among Ohio's law-breakers.

Recent experiments, said Reams, have shown many cases of social adjustments among Ohio's 12,000 inmates of penal and correctional institutions were due to some type of physical disturbance or illness.

Another main welfare problem confronting the state are the need for raising safety and hygiene standards of homes caring for the Ohio's indigent aged, and establishment of new receiving hospitals for the mentally ill and the segregation of mentally ill tubercular patients, Reams said.

Also the "medieval" system of bringing a person into court to have him convicted of insanity before he can be institutionalized, soon should be replaced with a system under which any physician could enter a patient in a receiving hospital for the mentally ill at any time, Reams concluded.

Keitel Says Hitler Issued All Orders

NUERNBERG, April 4. — Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel frankly testified today that many orders issued under his name "represented deviations from existing international law" and that it was his duty "to take responsibility for what I have done, even if it has been wrong."

The former chief of the German high command, one of 22 leading Germans on trial as war criminals, told the international military tribunal:

"I am grateful to have the opportunity here and before the German people to give an account of those things. For all officers subordinate to me, I assume responsibility insofar as it is based on moral and legal principles."

From the time Col. Werner Von Blomberg resigned as chief of the army in 1938, "there was only one commander in chief—Hitler himself," Keitel testified. Von Blomberg died last month in the Nuernberg prison.

"Hitler issued orders to all three arms of the Wehrmacht directly," the field marshal said. "There was no deputizing of power."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be liver kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 15 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with aching and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Plan Activation of Army Reserve Corps

WASHINGTON, April 4 — The War department announced today that activation of organized Reserve corps units will begin this summer as a third step in the creation of the post-war army.

The entire program, if completed, will provide the nation with a reservoir of military strength at least six times greater than existed in 1920 when the regular Army, National Guard and Reserves together mustered a total of only 363,640 men.

The first step in the program was the request to congress for continuation of the draft to assure a standing army of 1,550,000 on next July 1, with a subsequent reduction to 1,070,000 by July 1, 1947.

The second step was a recommendation that a National Guard of 622,500 be authorized.

In preparing for the third step of activating Reserve units, the army reported it has a substantial manpower pool to draw on. Currently more than 225,000 officers of World War II have accepted commissions in the Reserve, and about 300,000 enlisted men have signed up.

The organized Reserve is viewed as a supplement to the regular army and to the National Guard in the event of an emergency.

Plan Activation of Army Reserve Corps

WASHINGTON, April 4 — The War department announced today that activation of organized Reserve corps units will begin this summer as a third step in the creation of the post-war army.

The entire program, if completed, will provide the nation with a reservoir of military strength at least six times greater than existed in 1920 when the regular Army, National Guard and Reserves together mustered a total of only 363,540 men.

The first step in the program was the request to congress for continuation of the draft to assure a standing army of 1,550,000 on next July 1, with a subsequent reduction to 1,070,000 by July 1, 1947.

The second step was a recommendation that a National Guard of 422,500 be authorized.

In preparing for the third step of activating Reserve units, the army reported it has a substantial manpower pool to draw on. Currently more than 225,000 officers of World War II have accepted commissions in the Reserve, and about 300,000 enlisted men have signed up.

The organized Reserve is viewed as a supplement to the regular army and to the National Guard in the event of an emergency.

From Bataan to the Sidewalks of New York

Lester M. Clark, of San Francisco, who says he is a former Army sergeant, is trying to make a living shining shoes on the sidewalks of New York. He is pictured at work, sitting on a sidewalk and holding a sign. Clark says he survived the Bataan death march, where he lost his left arm, and was a Jap prisoner for three years. He holds 14 campaign ribbons, Bronze Star, Navy and Marine Citation.

Can Transplant Teeth, Say Research Workers

CLEVELAND, April 4—Two research workers have shown that growing teeth can be transplanted successfully from one kitten's jaw to another. And possibly, said Dr. Harry H. Shapiro of Columbia University's department of anatomy, further experiments may indicate similar transfers could be made in human beings. He and Dr. Bernice L. MacLean, of the department of biological sciences, Hunter College, New York, performed the tests with kittens. Dr. Shapiro reported the results yesterday to the annual meeting of the American Association of Physical Anthropologists.

Rolls-Royce Expensive

LONDON, April 4—Rolls-Royce Ltd. announced today that its new "Silver Wraith," the world's most expensive automobile, would be ready for delivery in July. The price will be 4,400 pounds ($17,630), of which nearly 1,000 pounds ($4,000) is the purchase tax.

RAILROAD GROUP GIVEN WAGE BOOST

Roads Expected To Ask For Freight Rate Increases

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 4—The nation's class one railroads, directed by two arbitration boards to increase wages of 1,220,000 workers 16 cents an hour—which union officials termed inadequate—were expected to ask for a boost in freight rates to compensate for the pay boosts.

As one union spokesman disclosed new wage demands would be made on the 130 lines as soon as possible, the Santa Fe railroad said it would appeal immediately to the Interstate Commerce commission for higher freight rates.

Similar action by other lines was regarded as certain.

Retroactive to Jan. 1

The wage hikes for members of 15 non-operating and three operating brotherhoods retroactive to last Jan. 1, will amount to about $400 a year for each worker. The non-operating unions had asked increases of 30 cents an hour; the operating groups demanded boosts of $2.50 a day.

There will be no delay in the new wage scale becoming effective, said Bert M. Jewell, chairman of the 15 unions representing 1,100,000 non-operating employees, as the award was final and not subject to further review or to approval by the federal Wage Stabilization board.

Spokesmen for the three operating unions representing the firemen and engineers, the conductors and the switchmen, said they had not decided yet whether to join the non-operating groups in seeking additional wage increases.

The pay boost does not apply to members of two operating brotherhoods representing the trainmen and locomotive engineers. Their demands for a 25 per cent wage hike and changes in certain working rules are being reviewed by a fact-finding board here.

RAILROAD GROUP GIVEN WAGE BOOST

Roads Expected To Ask For Freight Rate Increases

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 4.—The nation's class one railroads, directed by two arbitration boards to increase wages of 1,220,000 workers 16 cents an hour—which union officials termed inadequate—were expected to ask for a boost in freight rates to compensate for the pay boosts.

As one union spokesman disclosed new wage demands would be made on the 130 lines as soon as possible, the Santa Fe railroad said it would appeal immediately to the Interstate Commerce commission for higher freight rates.

Similar action by other lines was regarded as certain.

Retroactive to Jan. 1

The wage hikes for members of 15 non-operating and three operating brotherhoods, retroactive to last Jan. 1, will amount to about $400 a year for each worker. The non-operating unions had asked increases of 30 cents an hour; the operating groups demanded boosts of $2.50 a day.

There will be no delay in the new wage scale becoming effective, said Bert M. Jewell, chairman of the 15 unions representing 1,100,000 non-operating employees, as the award was final and not subject to further review or to approval by the federal Wage Stabilization board.

Spokesmen for the three operating unions representing the firemen and engineers, the conductors and the switchmen, said they had not decided yet whether to join the non-operating groups in seeking additional wage increases.

The pay boost does not apply to members of two operating brotherhoods representing the trainmen and locomotive engineers. Their demands for a 25 per cent wage hike and changes in certain working rules are being reviewed by a fact-finding board here.

Can Transplant Teeth, Say Research Workers

CLEVELAND, April 4.—Two research workers have shown that growing teeth can be transplanted successfully from one kitten's jaw to another.

And possibly, said Dr. Harry H. Shapiro of Columbia university's department of anatomy, further experiments may indicate similar transfers could be made in human beings.

He and Dr. Bernice L. MacLean, of the department of biological sciences, Hunter college, New York, performed the tests with kittens. Dr. Shapiro reported the results yesterday to the annual meeting of the American Association of Physical Anthropologists.

Ohio Grange Head Flays Grain Use In Alcohol

COLUMBUS, April 4.—Ohio Grange Master Joseph W. Fichter says the government should prevent use of grain and sugar in making beverage alcohol during the world food crisis.

BOY, 15, SAVED FROM CHAIR IN SLAYING

CANTON, April 4.—John H. Haley, 15, was convicted last night of first degree murder in the hold-up slaying of confectioner William A. Karam last Oct. 14, but was saved from death in the Ohio electric chair by a jury's recommendation of mercy.

He was found guilty of serving as a lookout during the attempted robbery and shooting.

'Flying Ice Plant' Makes Weather To Test Jet Engines

CLEVELAND, April 4.—The "Flying Ice Plant," a B-24 Liberator bomber, is hauling a jet engine around the upper atmosphere over northern Ohio these days, deliberately making ice form on the jet's big mouth.

When clouds are available, nature provides its own ice. When there are no clouds, the crew manufactures them by squirting a fine spray from tanks in the plane. The low temperature of two or three miles altitude does the rest.

The project is being run by the Cleveland engine research laboratory of the National Advisory Committee For Aeronautics, to study ice formation on turbo-jet engines, as well as means to prevent icing.

The B-24's four conventional engines supply the actual flying power. Built into the fuselage is a General Electric turbo-jet engine of the 1-16 centrifugal compressor type. Hooked to this jet engine are numerous recording devices, and a camera takes a running record of the clouds and instruments.

Ice makes jet engines too hot. It clogs the wire protecting screen over the huge intake and reduces the flow of air. The jet engine needs air not only for combustion but also for cooling.

Because the jet runs at very high temperature even under normal conditions, any reduction of air intake makes it overheat and burn out rapidly. The laboratory wants to know how to go about preventing that.

ATOM BOMB

pected to produce serious waves, because it will be exploded at least hundreds of feet in the air. The second explosion is planned either at the surface of the water or under water in the atoll.

But the waves are not expected to be serious at long distance from the atoll. For one reason, the atoll is a ring of islands on which any waves may be expected to break and lose much of their force.

The explosion at the surface might raise a wave of not more than 50 feet high. After breaking on the atoll islands, this wave still could travel a long distance but hardly displacing enough volume of water to reach any civilized shores and possibly not enough to be a serious menace to any nearby islands.

If the second Bikini atoll bomb exploded under water, there is still the ring of islands to break the force and also to reduce greatly the volume of water affected after the first wave breaks on the ring of islands.

After the burial ceremony, Ohio's present governor, Frank J. Lausche, said: "I am sure his heavy responsibilities during the grueling hours in which he was governor fatigued him tremendously. The rest which I know he wanted and needed has come to him."

Many Maternity Wards Inadequate, Hearing Says

COLUMBUS, April 4.—State Health Director Roger Heering, pointing out that a third of the 6,000 to 7,000 babies born prematurely in Ohio each year die, says every hospital in the state should offer special training in premature infant care.

players over-powered them and stripped them of their uniforms.

Previously one of the guards said Medley forced him at gun point to unlock his cell door.

McFarland was convicted of the Oct. 5, 1944, rape-slaying of an 18-year-old government girl, Dorothy Berrum. Originally sentenced to die last Aug. 31, the ex-Marine's execution was stayed pending an appeal.

Medley was found guilty of killing Mrs. Nancy Boyer, redheaded Washington divorcee, after an all-night poker party in her fashionable apartment here March 6, 1945.

He also was under indictment in the slaying of another redheaded woman in New Orleans and Chicago police wanted to question him in connection with the death of a third redheaded woman. Medley's execution was set for April 30, but he too has appealed his conviction.

Sought In Slaying, Vet Kills Himself

(By Associated Press)

CHESTER, Pa., April 4.—A 23-year-old veteran was found dead, sprawled across a gas stove in the kitchen of his home, last night by detectives who had been waiting outside to arrest him on charges of murdering Mrs. Rose Lyons Reynolds, 49-year-old housewife.

Fatally beaten in a park, Mrs. Reynolds had the letters "Y" and "W" crudely carved on her forehead, apparently with a penknife. Doctors said a post mortem examination showed she was raped.

Warrants charging the veteran, Grant Tyler, and another man with the slaying were obtained by Chester authorities several hours before Tyler was found dead. The second man, whose name police withheld, is still being sought.

Tyler's mother, Mrs. Daisy Tyler, returned from her job in a Chester restaurant to find her son atop the gas range, three jets of which were open. Her outcries brought detectives who had been seated in an automobile across the street waiting for Tyler to come home.

Chief of Police A. Desmond said blood and mud-stained shoes, trousers and a shirt were found in Tyler's rooms and his hands and arms were scratched. Declaring "certainly it was suicide," the officer said this note was found beside the body:

"I have not been good and it looks like I never will be now."

Clay Workers End Strike; Get Raise

AKRON, April 4.—Settlement of a strike by 2,300 AFL clay products workers, which halted production at 27 Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana companies on Feb. 4, was reported today by Federal Conciliator John L. Conner.

The conciliator said representatives of the AFL United Brick and Clay Workers and the companies reached agreement on an 18½-cent hourly pay increase following two days of meetings here.

The pay raise still is subject to approval by the Wage Stabilization board and ratification by the union policy committee, expected to act favorably in the next few days.

The strike settlement was expected to release immediately home building materials that have been kept in factory yards of the clay products manufacturers.

Among the cities which will push their clocks ahead one hour are New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Miami, Louisville and Indianapolis.

Daylight Savings will be observed on a state-wide basis in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont, New York, Pennsylvania, Maine, Delaware, Virginia, West Virginia, South Carolina, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Idaho and Missouri will leave the question of advancing the clock to local option.

New York Central railroad will operate on Standard time; the Pennsylvania on Daylight Saving.

TWA, United and American airlines said they would rearrange their flight plans across the country.

Ohio Grange Head Flays Grain Use In Alcohol

COLUMBUS, April 4.—Ohio Grange Master Joseph W. Pichter says the government should prevent use of grain and sugar in making beverage alcohol during the world food crisis.

A letter to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson said in part: "Grange members are disturbed. When children are crying for bread, adults can not justify the luxury of liquor."

BOY, 15, SAVED FROM CHAIR IN SLAYING

CANTON, April 4.—John H. Haley, 15, was convicted last night of first degree murder in the hold-up slaying of confectioner William A. Karam last Oct. 14, but was saved from death in the Ohio electric chair by a jury's recommendation of mercy.

He was found guilty of serving as a lookout during the attempted robbery and shooting.

'Flying Ice Plant' Makes Weather To Test Jet Engines

CLEVELAND, April 4.—The "Flying Ice Plant," a B-24 Liberator bomber, is hauling a jet engine around the upper atmosphere over northern Ohio these days, deliberately making ice form on the jet's big mouth.

When clouds are available, nature provides its own ice. When there are no clouds, the crew manufactures them by squirting a fine spray from tanks in the plane. The low temperature of two or three miles altitude does the rest.

The project is being run by the Cleveland engine research laboratory of the National Advisory Committee For Aeronautics to study ice formation on turbo-jet engines, as well as means to prevent icing.

The B-24's four conventional engines supply the actual flying power. Built into the fuselage is a General Electric turbo-jet engine of the 1-16 centrifugal compressor type. Hooked to this jet engine are numerous recording devices, and a camera takes a running record of the dials and instruments.

Ice makes jet engines too hot. It clogs the wire protecting screens over the huge intake and reduces the flow of air. The jet engine needs air not only for combustion but also for cooling.

Because the jet runs at very high temperature even under normal conditions, any reduction of air intake makes it overheat and burn out rapidly. The laboratory wants to know how to go about preventing that.

pected to produce serious waves, because it will be exploded at least hundreds of feet in the air. The second explosion is planned either at the surface of the water or under water in the atoll.

But the waves are not expected to be serious at long distance from the atoll. For one reason, the atoll is a ring of islands on which any waves may be expected to break and lose much of their force.

The explosion at the surface might raise a wave of not more than 50 feet high. After breaking on the atoll islands, this wave still could travel a long distance but hardly displacing enough volume of water to reach any civilized shores and possibly not enough to be a serious menace to any nearby islands.

If the second Bikini atoll bomb exploded under water, there is still the ring of islands to break the force and also to reduce greatly the volume of water affected after the first wave breaks on the ring of islands.

1,450 Attend Funeral For Former Gov. Davey

KENT, April 4.—Former Governor Martin L. Davey, 61, was laid to rest in Standing Rock cemetery yesterday afternoon after funeral services attended by hundreds of his friends, present and past officials of the state and humble citizens of his home town.

At the Bussler funeral home, where the services were conducted, it was estimated that 450 crowded into the building and more than 1,000 others listened to the services outside.

After the burial ceremony, Ohio's present governor, Frank J. Lausche, said: "I am sure his heavy responsibilities during the grueling hours in which he was governor fatigued him tremendously. The rest which I know he wanted and needed has come to him."

Many Maternity Wards Inadequate, Hearing Says

COLUMBUS, April 4.—State Health Director Roger Heering, pointing out that a third of the 5,000 to 7,000 babies born prematurely in Ohio each year die, says every hospital in the state should offer special training in premature infant care.

"A large cause of infant mortality" is inadequate hospital facilities, he told the Ohio Hospital association's annual meeting here yesterday.

slayers over-powered them and stripped them of their uniforms. Previously one of the guards said Medley forced him at gun point to unlock his cell door.

McFarland was convicted of the Oct. 5, 1944, rape-slaying of an 18-year-old government girl, Dorothy Berrum. Originally sentenced to die last Aug. 31, the ex-Marine's execution was stayed pending an appeal.

Medley was found guilty of killing Mrs. Nancy Boyer, redheaded Washington divorcee, after an all-night poker party in her fashionable apartment here March 6, 1945.

He also was under indictment in the slaying of another redheaded woman in New Orleans and Chicago police wanted to question him in connection with the death of a third redheaded woman. Medley's execution was set for April 30, but he too has appealed his conviction.

Sought In Slaying, Vet Kills Himself

(By Associated Press) CHESTER, Pa., April 4.—A 23-year-old veteran was found dead, sprawled across a gas stove in the kitchen of his home, last night by detectives who had been waiting outside to arrest him on charges of murdering Mrs. Rose Lyons Reynolds, 49-year-old housewife.

Fatally beaten in a park, Mrs. Reynolds had the letters "Y" and "W" crudely carved on her forehead, apparently with a penknife. Doctors said a post mortem examination showed she was raped.

Warrants charging the veteran, Grant Tyler, and another man with the slaying were obtained by Chester authorities several hours before Tyler was found dead. The second man, whose name police withheld, is still being sought.

Tyler's mother, Mrs. Daisy Tyler, returned from her job in a Chester restaurant to find her son atop the gas range, three jets of which were open. Her outcries brought detectives who had been seated in an automobile across the street waiting for Tyler to come home.

Chief of Police A. Desmond said blood and mud-stained shoes, trousers and a shirt were found in Tyler's rooms and his hands and arms were scratched. Declaring "certainly it was suicide," the officer said this note was found beside the body:

"I have not been good and I look like I never will be now."

MACKENZIE'S Column

DE WITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the first questions flung at me after my arrival home from touring Europe was: "Are the Russians bluffing?"

Now there's a nice meaty query for you, and as uncomfortable to handle as an unexploded block-buster in the heart of a city. Still, the block-busters have to be dealt with as a matter of safety, and this Russian question strikes me as falling in about the same category.

There has been far too much hesitancy in touching matters of this sort, for fear of making trouble.

If the Big Three—Russia, America and Britain—had cleared up a bunch of questions for one another long ago, the international situation would be a lot easier right now. Anyway, the answer to my friend's inquiry as I see it (and I've studied it from all angles) is this:

Russia isn't bluffing. She has laid out a plan of the zone of influence which she considers necessary for her protection and well-being, both in Europe and in Asia. Much, if not all, of this program has been made known to the world at large. She intends to keep on driving for that, and naturally will continue to take advantage of every opening given by the other powers.

That's not bluff, although shrewd tactical maneuvering and everlasting persistence are involved. However—and this is the point my questioner had in mind—I have found no reason to believe that Moscow would permit the Soviet program to create a situation which might lead to another world conflict.

The idea that the Soviet union would do that just doesn't make horse sense. All other considerations aside, neither Russia nor any other power is prepared to embark on a further global conflict now.

To be sure there are numerous situations which we should like Moscow to explain.

But what Uncle Sam and John Bull can't afford to overlook is that Moscow has just as many questions which it would like cleared up by the western allies. These unanswered questions are certain breeders of suspicion, and until the Big Three table all their cards those suspicions will exist and endanger peace.

Specifically—and I believe this is a matter which is worrying many folk—the people of Russia don't have to accept our form of government for fear of offending us if they don't adopt it. On the contrary, they have every right to fight to retain their Communist state.

But by the same token, there is no reason why the people of the United States or Britain shouldn't battle against Communism for themselves if they don't want it. That is no affront to Russia.

Naval Expert Says Japs Developed Fastest Sub

(By Associated Press)

SASEBO, Japan, April 4.—A streamlined submarine much faster than any turned out in the United States was developed by the Japanese before they lost the war, an American expert disclosed today.

Lt. Cmdr. George F. Sharp, of Vallejo, Calif., who commanded the target fleet of 24 Japanese submarines blown up Monday off the coast, said U.S. submarines could make 12 knots an hour submerged, while the Japanese streamlined model could make 20 knots.

"This submarine has two very important features—streamlining and the number of batteries," said Sharp. "Guns recessed into the deck, and even antenna fittings were pulled back. The conning tower was shaped like a teardrop. Every bit of resistance possible was eliminated."

The fast Japanese submarine has 2088 battery jars with 4,166 cells. Latest U.S. subs carried 240 battery jars, he explained.

MACKENZIE'S Column

DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the first questions flung at me after my arrival home from touring Europe was: "Are the Russians bluffing?"

Now there's a nice meaty query for you, and as uncomfortable to handle as an unexploded block-buster in the heart of a city. Still, the block-busters have to be dealt with as a matter of safety, and this Russian question strikes me as falling in about the same category.

There has been far too much hesitancy in touching matters of this sort, for fear of making trouble.

If the Big Three—Russia, America and Britain—had cleared up a bunch of questions for one another long ago, the international situation would be a lot easier right now. Anyway, the answer to my friend's inquiry as I see it (and I've studied it from all angles) is this:

Russia isn't bluffing. She has laid out a plan of the zone of influence which she considers necessary for her protection and well-being, both in Europe and in Asia. Much, if not all, of this program has been made known to the world at large. She intends to keep on driving for that, and naturally will continue to take advantage of every opening given by the other powers.

That's not bluff, although shrewd tactical maneuvering and everlasting persistence are involved. However—and this is the point my questioner had in mind—I have found no reason to believe that Moscow would permit the Soviet program to create a situation which might lead to another world conflict.

The idea that the Soviet union would do that just doesn't make horse sense. All other considerations aside, neither Russia nor any other power is prepared to embark on a further global conflict now.

To be sure there are numerous situations which we should like Moscow to explain.

But what Uncle Sam and John Bull can't afford to overlook is that Moscow has just as many questions which it would like cleared up by the western allies. These unanswered questions are certain breeders of suspicion, and until the Big Three table all their cards those suspicions will exist and endanger peace.

Specifically—and I believe this is a matter which is worrying many folk—the people of Russia don't have to accept our form of government for fear of offending us if they don't adopt it. On the contrary, they have

Naval Expert Says Japs Developed Fastest Sub

(By Associated Press)

SASEBO, Japan, April 4.—A streamlined submarine much faster than any turned out in the United States was developed by the Japanese before they lost the war, an American expert disclosed today.

Lt. Cmdr. George F. Sharp, of Vallejo, Calif., who commanded the target fleet of 24 Japanese submarines blown up Monday off the coast, said U.S. submarines could make 12 knots an hour submerged, while the Japanese streamlined model could make 20 knots.

"This submarine has two very important features—streamlining and the number of batteries," said Sharp. "Guns recessed into the deck, and even antenna fittings were shaped like a teardrop. Every bit of resistance possible was eliminated."

The fast Japanese submarine has 2,068 battery jars with 4,156 cells. Latest U.S. subs carried 240 battery jars, he explained.

Goodrich Five Evens Playoff Series With Ohio Grill, 51-40

'Mutt' Schaeffer Winds Up Career With 20-Point Spree As Pridon Stars For Grills

Sparked by Army-bound Charles "Mutt" Schaeffer, who wound up his local cage career with a 20-point spree in last night's contest, Goodrich evened up its playoff series with the Ohio Grill at a game apiece last night at the Memorial building, 51-40.

The third, and deciding, game for the city senior title will be played at 8 tonight.

Goodrich turned the tables nicely on the Grills by coming from behind to win, thus gaining a measure of revenge for the 51-49 reverse handed them by the Grills in the first game of the playoff Tuesday.

Big Sam Pridon was the driving force in the Grill attack as he poured 19 points through the rims, 11 of them in the first half when the Grill had the better of things.

Goodrich trailed 9-6 at the first quarter and 26-20 at halftime before finding themselves in the third frame when they took a slight advantage on the sparkling play of Bill and "Mutt" Schaeffer.

The last quarter saw the winners virtually walk away from the Grill five to win going away.

The two Schaeffers again set the pace for the Goodrich passers with 31 points between them while Gordy Scullion, Tom Nedelka and Frankie Culler added another 20.

"Mutt" Schaeffer's scoring effort, not his best of the season but yet a completely satisfying one, was a fitting climax to his brief career in the city league this year.

The rangy ex-Salem High star left for the army this morning.

Goodrich chances for victory in the crucial game tonight appear less bright with the loss of Schaeffer but Wayne Slinger's team has proved time again this season that its attack can function smoothly despite the absence of any of its big guns.

Slinger has on his roster a galaxy of stars, many of whom have not seen action either in the playoff or the recent round robin.

Anyone of these luminaries could assume much of the club's scoring responsibility as well as fit into the classy Goodrich attack.

Les Knepp, who was among the missing in the Ohio Grill lineup last night, will probably be on hand for the game tonight. Always a dangerous scoring threat, Knepp also manages to get his share of the rebounds.

Teamed with Pridon and Bob "Doggie" Scullion, he helps comprise a rangy and formidable trio, capable of giving any team a bad time.

In a preliminary game at 7 tonight, St. Paul will face the Trinity five in a Church league contest.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 4.—Ed Lopat will attempt to make it five straight and 10 out of 20 for the Chicago White Sox against Pittsburgh today as the two teams meet in another game of their extended spring exhibition series. The Sox won yesterday 6-2 as Pitcher Johnny Rigney went the distance allowing only six hits.

DEL RIO, Texas.—Hank Borowy gets the pitching assignment for the Chicago Cubs today in an attempt to narrow the 7-5 lead the St. Louis Browns have taken over the National League champions. The Cubs got only three hits off Nelson Potter yesterday as the Browns won 1-0.

CHARLESTON, S. C.—The Philadelphia Athletics and Baltimore Orioles return here today to resume their series, which stands 3-1 in favor of the A's. The A's will be strengthened by the return of Outfielder Elmer Valo, who was recently discharged from the service.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—The New York Giants got a taste of what they may have to expect in inter-borough rivalry this year when they were beaten yesterday by the Brooklyn Dodgers' latest pitching find, Joe Hatten, 5-2. Hatten, in going the route, speeded nine hits and fanned two.

FORT WORTH, Texas.—Despite home runs by Charley Keller and Nick Eiten, the New York Yankees "A" team dropped its first exhibition game out of five to a minor league club yesterday, losing to Fort Worth of the Texas League 5-4. A two-run explosion against Steve Rorer in the ninth won for the Cats.

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—The Detroit Tigers squared off here today against the Boston Braves, who have bowed four consecutive times to the World Champions. At Mobile yesterday Paul Trout hurled a six-hit shutout to beat the Bostonians, 2-0.

May Bar "Loop Jumpers" For Lifetime

By BEN PHLEGAR

MIAMI, Fla., April 4.—Clark Griffith, the man who led organized baseball's successful fight against the outlaw Federal league, is ready to wage full scale warfare against the money-wielding Mexican league by barring for life all players who jump south of the border.

The venerable owner of the Washington Senators of the American league said in an interview at Orlando, Fla., that he firmly believes players who desert United States leagues for the Mexican circuit will and should be barred forever from baseball in this country.

A report, published today in the Miami Herald, quoted an unnamed source as saying such action would be taken shortly at a joint meeting of club presidents.

Both Ford Frick, president of the National league, and Will Harridge, president of the American league, said they knew nothing of any meeting.

A bank president reinstating a cashier who had embezzled $100,000, Griffith said.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler recently cited an old baseball law barring players who join outlaw clubs from asking reinstatement in organized baseball for at least five years.

Griffith said that the law also provides that the club from which the player jumped must approve his reinstatement.

"Those players who remained loyal should not have to submit to the ordeal of competing against of associating with violators of their agreements—and I believe that they will be spared the ordeal," the Washington owner declared.

"The places of these men will be filled by other men of equal or greater ability. That is the history of baseball, but regardless of that, the discipline of baseball must be preserved. Were baseball to adopt a policy of leniency with players who jump contracts, the structure of the leagues would fall apart. Chaos would replace the well-ordered operation of the game and the leagues."

Mexican League Sure of Getting More U. S. Stars

(By Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, April 4.—Robert Janis, a scout for the Mexican Baseball league, returned from Florida today and predicted "there will be mutiny in the Brooklyn Dodgers camp unless something happens" and said "somewhat of the same situation exists with the New York Giants."

Janis' statement followed last night's offer by Jorge Pasquel, president of the league, to bet major league club owners $2,000,000 that his circuit would not collapse.

"Nearly all the Dodgers are fed up with Branch Rickey (president of the Brooklyn club) and are eager to come to Mexico," Janis declared.

As Pasquel exhibited 17 cablegrams from unidentified U. S. players seeking information, Janis commented: "All they needed was some really important player like Vernon Stephens (formerly of the St. Louis Browns) to break the ice. Now they all want to play here. It is a matter of selecting."

"The whole thing will help the players in the United States get better pay," Janis continued. "Everybody knows Stephens was worth the $17,500 for which he was holding out with the Browns. Why, he led the American league in home runs last year."

Pasquel said that for this year "we still need about a dozen players who will probably come within the next four weeks."

"Next year," he added, "we'll get about 50 of their players."

Indians Make Ready For Tour To North

(By Associated Press)

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 4.—It was packing day today for the Cleveland Indians, who on Saturday will open a nine-game tour with the New York Giants, starting at Jacksonville.

The Tribe's final exhibition at its training camp here was a 5 to 3 loss—and to a minor league team, the Kansas City Blues. That made 12 losses against 10 wins for the exhibition season to date.

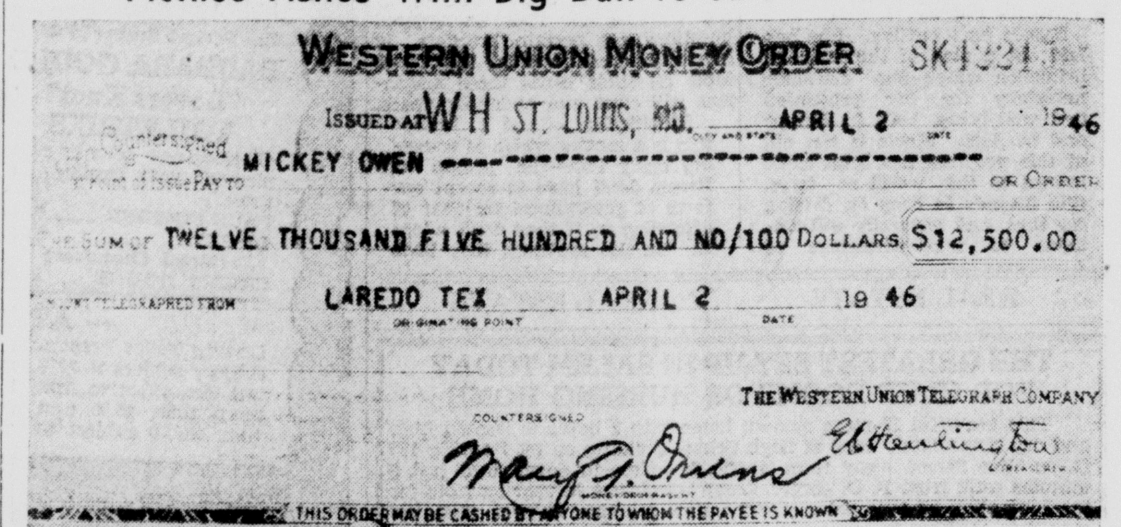

For the first six innings yesterday, with Steve Gromek sideling on the mound, the Indians held the Blues under control, but Kansas City broke loose in the eighth and ninth against Tom Ferrick, the losing pitcher, and Pete Center. Three of the Blues' runs came in the eighth and another in the ninth.

Mexico Fishes With Big Bait To Catch a Catcher

Mickey Owen, former catcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, recently discharged from the Navy, is shown at left with his wife, Gloria; his son, Charles, 6, and their dog "Chesty" at St. Louis as he announced he had signed with the Torreon, Mexico, baseball club as player-manager. Mickey received $12,500 bonus, above, and half of his 1946 salary in advance. Amount of his pay is undisclosed, but he says he will be able to retire at the end of his five-year contract.

Goodrich Five Evens Playoff Series With Ohio Grill, 51-40

'Mutt' Schaeffer Winds Up Career With 20-Point Spree As Pridon Stars For Grills

Sparked by Army-bound Charles "Mutt" Schaeffer, who wound up his local cage career with a 20-point spree in last night's contest, Goodrich evened up its playoff series with the Ohio Grill at a game apiece last night at the Memorial building, 51-40.

The third, and deciding, game for the city senior title will be played at 8 tonight.

Goodrich turned the tables nicely on the Grills by coming from behind to win, thus gaining a measure of revenge for the 51-49 reverse handed them by the Grills in the first game of the playoff Tuesday.

Big Sam Pridon was the driving force in the Grill attack as he poured 19 points through the rims, 11 of them in the first half when the Grill had the better of things.

Goodrich trailed 9-6 at the first quarter and 26-20 at halftime before finding themselves in the third frame when they took a slight advantage on the sparkling play of Bill and "Mutt" Schaeffer.

The last quarter saw the winners virtually walk away from the Grill five to win going away.

The two Schaeffers again set the pace for the Goodrich passers with 31 points between them while Gordy Scullion, Tom Nedelka and Frankie Culler added another 20.

"Mutt" Schaeffer's scoring effort, not his best of the season but yet a completely satisfying one, was a fitting climax to his brief career in the city league this year. The ranky ex-Salem High star left for the army this morning.

Goodrich chances for victory in the crucial game tonight appear less bright with the loss of Schaeffer but Wayne Sidinger's team has proved time again this season that its attack can function smoothly despite the absence of any of its big guns.

Sidinger has on his roster a galaxy of stars, many of whom have not seen action either in the playoff or the recent round robin.

Anyone of these luminaries could assume much of the club's scoring responsibility as well as fit into the classy Goodrich attack.

Les Knepp, who was among the missing in the Ohio Grill lineup last night, will probably be on hand for the game tonight. Always a dangerous scoring threat, Knepp also manages to get his share of the rebounds.

Teamed with Pridon and Bob "Doc" Scullion, he helps comprise a rangy and formidable trio, capable of giving any team a bad time.

In a preliminary game at 7 tonight, St. Paul will face the Trinity five in a Church league contest.

Bobby Feller Keeps Tab On Batters In Extensive Notebook System, Studies

By CHIP ROYAL

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Thanks to Manager Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians, your agent had quite an experience the other day. I sat on the bench with Bobby Feller during an exhibition game.

Rapid Robert is quite a guy. He has a lot of good ideas. But right now he is worried about "having enough paper" to list all the information about American league hitters.

It's like this: "You know I can't find out enough about hitters," admits Bob. "Take Ted Williams, for instance. I've had a lot of good luck against him but the guy is uncanny; he can hit almost any kind of a ball."

Sold On School The fireballer also likes to talk about the baseball school he ran this winter. He plans one every year.

"I got a big kick out of the kids. Some of them are going to make good ball players, too. At least 70 were signed by major league clubs."

"Boy, it's great to be back in this game again. I missed it. It want to set a few new pitching records before I get through and time's a-wasting."

"Speaking of pitching, we're going to have quite a mound staff on the Indians this year. If we can get some hitting, we'll have a lot of fun with the Yankees, Red Sox and Tigers."

Feller studies every hitter as if he were going to pitch against him for the world championship.

May Bar "Loop Jumpers" For Lifetime

By BEN PHILGAR

MIAMI, Fla., April 4.—Clark Griffith, the man who led organized baseball's successful fight against the outlaw Federal league, is ready to wage full scale warfare against the money-wielding Mexican league by barring for life all players who jump south of the border.

The venerable owner of the Washington Senators of the American league said in an interview at Orlando, Fla., that he firmly believes players who desert United States leagues for the Mexican circuit will and should be barred forever from baseball in this country.

A report, published today in the Miami Herald, quoted an unnamed source as saying such action would be taken shortly at a joint meeting of club presidents.

Both Ford Frick, president of the National league, and Will Harridge, president of the American league, said they knew nothing of any meeting.

Were it otherwise it would be like a bank president reinstating a cashier who had embezzled $100,000, Griffith said.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler recently cited an old baseball law barring players who join outlaw clubs from asking reinstatement in organized baseball for at least five years.

Griffith said that the law also provides that the club from which the player jumped must approve his reinstatement.

"Those players who remained loyal should not have to submit to the ordeal of competing against or associating with violators of their agreements—and I believe that they will be spared the ordeal," the Washington owner declared.

"The places of these men will be filled by other men of equal or greater ability. That is the history of baseball, but regardless of that, the discipline of baseball must be preserved. Were baseball to adopt a policy of leniency with players who jump contracts, the structure of the leagues would fall apart. Chaos would replace the well-ordered operation of the game and the leagues."

Griffith said that the law also provides that the club from which the player jumped must approve his reinstatement.

Mexican League Sure of Getting More U. S. Stars

(By Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, April 4.—Robert Janis, a scout for the Mexican Baseball league, returned from Florida today and predicted "there will be mutiny in the Brooklyn Dodgers camp unless something happens" and said "somewhat of the same situation exists with the New York Giants."

Janis' statement followed last night's offer by Jorge Pasquel, president of the league, to bet major league club owners $2,000,000 that his circuit would not collapse.

"Nearly all the Dodgers are fed up with Branch Rickey (president of the Brooklyn club) and are eager to come to Mexico," Janis declared.

As Pasquel exhibited 17 cablegrams from unidentified U. S. players seeking information, Janis commented: "All they needed was some really important player like Vernon Stephens (formerly of the St. Louis Browns) to break the ice. Now they all want to play here. It is a matter of selecting."

"The whole thing will help the players in the United States get better pay," Janis continued. "Everybody knows Stephens was worth the $17,500 for which he was holding out with the Browns. Why, he led the American league in home runs last year."

Pasquel said that for this year "we still need about a dozen players who will probably come within the next four weeks."

"Next year," he added, "we'll get about 50 of their players."

Indians Make Ready For Tour To North

(By Associated Press)

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 4.—It was packing day today for the Cleveland Indians, who on Saturday will open a nine-game tour with the New York Giants, starting at Jacksonville.

The Tribe's final exhibition at its training camp here was a 5 to 3 loss—and to a minor league team, the Kansas City Blues. That made 12 losses against 10 wins for the exhibition season to date.

For the first six innings yesterday, with Steve Gromek side-wheeling on the mound, the Indians held the Blues under control, but Kansas City broke loose in the eighth and ninth against Tom Ferrick, the losing pitcher, and Pete Center. Three of the Blues' runs came in the eighth and another in the ninth.

Midnet Auto Races At Canfield to Begin May 4

The Canfield fairgrounds will be the scene of midnet auto racing during the summer season starting Saturday night, May 4, and continuing each Saturday thereafter, under the sponsorship of the Findlay Speedways.

A full quarter mile perfect conditioned speedway has been placed in front of the Canfield grandstand and a great speed program will be staged each Saturday night. No expense is being spared to make one of the top highlights of the summer.

Many of the greatest midnet cars and drivers from coast to coast will participate.
